

Carla Aparicio

Carla is a photographer with a degree in Communication Advertising from the Universidad Anahuac in Mexico City.

Carla has attended numerous photographic courses and workshops at UCLA and with Julia Dean in Venice, CA. She has a Certificate of Achievement in Photography from Santa Monica College in Los Angeles, CA.

Her lens is a medium that allows her to express herself by getting in touch with her inner self. She believes there is always a story to share, a life lesson to uncover and a moment to capture.

Carla has been transforming and expanding her art in areas of personal evolution such as yoga, meditation, as well as in collaborative projects such as hand weaving her photography with communities in Nepal and Puebla. Nature, music, architecture and the uniqueness of people inspire her deeply and remind her how interconnected our world really is.
